01 Bailey, S. E. / J. J. Hublin, eds.: Dental Perspectives on Human Evolution: State of the Art Research in Dental Paleoanthropology

2007 – 437 pp., 108 fig., tabl. €101,60

INDICE: 1. Dental Evolution and Dental Morphology: V. Pilbrow: Patterns of molar variation in great apes and their implications for hominin taxonomy — S. E. Bailey / B. A. Wood: Trends in postcanine occlusal morphology within the hominin clade: the case of paranthropus — J. Moggi-Cecchi / S. Boccone: Maxillary molars cusp morphology of south african australopithecines — M. Bastir & al.: Gran Dolina-TD6 and Sima de los huesos dental samples: preliminary approach to some dental characters of interest for phylogenetic studies — F. Manni / R. Vargiu / A. Coppa: Neural network analysis by using the self-organizing maps (SOMs) applied to human fossil dental morphology: a new methodology — A. J. Olejniczak / F. E. Grine / L. B. Martin: Micro-computed tomography of primate molars: methodological aspects of three-dimensional data collection — D. G. Gantt / J. Kappelman / R. A. Ketcham: HRXCT analysis of hominoid molars: a quantitative volumetric analysis and 3D reconstruction of coronal enamel and dentin — 2. Dental Microstructure and Life History: G. T. Schwartz / L. R. Godfrey / P. Mahoney: Inferring primate growth, development and life history from dental microstructure: the case of the extinct malagasy lemur, megaladapis — F. Ramirez Rozzi / R. S. Lacruz: Histological study of an upper incisor and molar of a bonobo (pan paniscus) individual — T. M. Smith & al.: New perspectives on chimpanzee and human molar crown development — T. G. Bromage & al.: Portable confocal scanning optical microscopy of australopithecus africanus enamel structure — D. Guatelli-Steinberg & al.: Imbricational enamel formation in neantertals and recent modern humans — 3. Dental Development: L. J. Hlusko / M. C. Mahaney: Of mice and monkeys:

quantitative genetic analyses of size variation along the dental arcade — J. Braga / Y. Heuze: Quantifying variation in human dental development sequences: an EVO-DEVO perspective — J. Monge & al.: Dental calcification stages of the permanent M1 and M2 in U.S. children of african-american and european-american ancestry born in the 1990s — P. Smith & al.: A computerized model for reconstruction of dental ontogeny: a new tool for studying evolutionary trends in the dentition — 4. Dentition and Diet: L. T. Humphrey / M. C. Dean / T. E. Jeffries: An evaluation of changes in strontium/calcium ratios across the neonatal line in human deciduous teeth — P. S. Ungar: Dental topography and human evolution with comments on the diets of australopithecus africanus and paranthropus — M. F. Teaford: Dental microwear and paleoanthropology: cautions and possibilities — L. Ulhaas / O. Kullmer / F. Schrenk: Tooth wear and diversity in early hominid molars: a case study — F. Estebanaranz & al.: 3-D interferometric microscopy applied to the study of buccal enamel microwear.

02 Barbieri, M., ed.: The Codes of Life. The Rules of Macroevolution

2008 – xx + 440 pp., 8 fig. €149,75

INDICE: M. Barbieri: The new frontier of biology — 1: Codes and Evolution: E. N. Trifonov: Codes of biosequences — M. Barbieri: The mechanisms of evolution: natural selection and natural conventions — 2: The Genetic Code: Á. Kun et al: Catalytic propensity of amino acids and the origins of the genetic code and proteins — M. Di Giulio: Why the genetic code originated: implications for the origin of protein synthesis — R. C. Guimarães et al: Self-referential formation of the genetic system — D. González: The mathematical structure of the genetic code — V. Scherbak: The arithmetical origin of the genetic code — 3: Protein, Lipid and Sugar Codes: M. Gimona: Protein linguistics and the modular code of the cytoskeleton — N. M. Maraldi: A lipid-based code in nuclear signalling — H.-J. Gabius: Biological information transfer beyond the genetic code: the sugar code — Y. Neuman: The immune self code: from correspondence to complexity — M. Faria: Signal transduction codes and cell fate — 4: Neural, Mental, and Cultural Codes: E. Szathmáry: Towards an understanding of language origins — S.J. Cowley: The codes of language: turtles all the way up? — S. Ó Nualláin: Code and context in gene expression, cognition, and consciousness — A. E. P. Villa: Neural coding in the neuroheuristic perspective — D. L. González: Error detection and correction codes — M. Reybrouck: The musical code between nature and nurture: ecosemiotic and neurobiological claims.
